Part 2 gives the history of the civil war in the United States, showing the course of England and the sacrifices Prussia was one of vigilant and scrupulous neutrality.

Part 3 makes a statement of international rights and duties: of the laws of England bearing thereon, and of the faithful performance and execution thereof by Great Britain during the war. It also gives a detailed account of the action of Minister Adams and Earl Russell to prevent the departure of the rebel cruisers.

Part 4 shows the limits of the powers possessed by Great Britain to prevent such departures.

Part 5, 6, 7 and 8 respectively present in detail facts relative to the Florida, Alabama, Georgia and Shenandoah.

Part 9 sets forth that the Georgia and Shenandoah were never equipped for war in British dominions. Her Majesty's Government was only informed respecting these vessels after their departure. The Alabama and Florida even did not receive their armament in British dominions. The peculiar circumstances of the Alabama's escape are recited, and England's vigilant endeavors to prevent her sailing as well as America's failure in the attempt to capture her are insisted upon.

Part 10 complains of the disadvantages under which Great Britain labors in meeting an unprecedented case.

The document concludes as follows: While England regrets the departure of the rebel cruisers from her ports, she cannot acknowledge the justice of the claims against her for pecuniary damages for their acts. The United States must solidly establish the fact of England's negligence. England is ready to accept the award, whether favorable or unfavorable. She desires it only to be just.

Senator Sumner's Resolution.

As the debate on Senator Sumner's resolution in relation to the sale of arms by the United States to France, during the late Franco-Prussian war, progresses, the people are becoming more intensely interested on the question. It was at first a cloud no bigger than a man's hand; now it darkens the whole political sky. The fact is, our government sold three hundred and fifty thousand stand of arms and fifty batteries of artillery—going so far in its spirit of accommodation as to manufacture a supply of cartridges to go with the arms. Of course our government did not sell these arms directly to the French government; but the arms certainly did go directly to France, and were used in the manner indicated. It has been intimated that some of them went to Germany and were used against the French; but this does not excuse the infraction of the international law in the eyes of the English; it only proves that we are guilty of two infraction instead one. In the face of these facts, why do Morton, Conkling, Harlan and all the Grant Senators oppose an investigation into the whole matter? The New York Journal of Commerce properly declares "a full investigation of the case is due: First, to the French government, which respectfully asks for it; second, to the German government, which has a right to know the facts; third, to the American people, who cannot sanction the alleged departure from neutrality, and who demand to be told whether any of the Washington officials shared in the profits of the operation; fourth, to the Administration itself, which, if innocent of the malfeasance, as we must hold it to be until the contrary is proved, should desire the most searching inquiry." But when a committee was demanded in the case of the New York Custom-house, the friends of General Grant denounced the movement, as they do that now under discussion in the Senate, and boldly announced there was nothing to investigate. That committee was raised, however, and the most astonishing results followed its labors. This being the case, the nation is not willing that Mr. Sumner's resolution in relation to the sale of arms to France shall be ignored, or laid on the shelf. Too many facts have already been unearthed for the remainder to be concealed. There must be a full and thorough expose of the whole transaction. Nothing less will satify the people of this country, or the governments of the Old World affected by the transaction. Our German fellow-citizens are particularly acute and sensitive upon this matter. They are not in the "breeches pockets" of Senator Schurz, as was sneeringly remarked by Senator Conkling, but watching the debate in the Senate with undivided attention, and noting the facts as they are brought out by Senator Sumner and Senator Schurz for future use. The German press of the nation have also taken hold of the matter and are ventilating it for the benefit of their readers.

Further accounts of the exceeding severity of the weather in the Northwest are received. A wagon train bound for Spotted Tail's reservation was six weeks making the trip, which usually takes but seven days. Many cattle perished and the drivers suffered terribly.

The Sunday School Anniversary of the Forest Presbyterian Church, on occasion pleasant alike to school and audience.

"Children and friends of the Sabbath School:—We are once more, through a kind Providence, permitted to assemble this evening to celebrate another anniversary of our Sabbath school. During the past year we have been the recipients of many blessings. The protecting care of our Heavenly Father has shielded us from harm and dangers incident to life. No seat in our school has been made vacant by death, and the dear lambs of the flock may still unite their voices in prayer and praise, as Sabbath after Sabbath they meet together to receive such instructions as will fit them for usefulness in this world, and prepare them for a home in Heaven when the good Shepherd may call them hence.

Another pleasant feature which may be reckoned among our blessings is the spirit of love and peace that has characterized our labors. No root of bitterness has sprung up to hinder our usefulness; but with a fervent desire to accomplish the good designed by the school, teachers and scholars have worked together in harmony. In we have been instrumental in doing anything to advance the Redeemer's Kingdom, we would give all the glory to Him who has inclined our hearts to labor in his Vinyard.

We find on consulting our school record the following pleasant report:

No. of boys in the school during the year,	84
" " girls " " " "	86
Total,	170
No. of teachers in the school during the year,	20
Average attendance of scholars "	80
Greatest No. present on any one Sabbath	110
Library books purchased during the year	107
Total No. of books in the Library, about	500
No. of papers distributed during the year	1200
Amt. of money raised for Missionary, books and appliances	$160.57

Number of premium books awarded, 35; also 1 pocket bible for memorizing the shorter catechism.

Although the average attendance of the school has been good, some classes have not been as well sustained as we had hoped. The young ladies' bible class has failed somewhat in punctuality, although the instructor has usually been present at an early hour. The use of Dr. Todd's Questions on Oneness has awakened an interest heretofore unknown, and much increased by the Wednesday evening lecture on the lesson by our pastor, and by the review and explanations by Prof. Wood on Sabbath morning.

Our Infant Department is not least in importance. I am happy to say the children are well cared for, and will add as bright jewels in our crown of rejoicing.

We have also been permitted to enlarge our field of usefulness by establishing a mission school at Armstrong's, the history of which is brief: It began on Sabbath afternoon, April 23d, with seven children, in a small, unoccupied house. This house being subsequently rented, a friend of the school kindly offered a room in her dwelling for our use. Here the children continued to assemble, steadily increasing in interest and numbers until the place became to strait for us, and it was thought advisable to build a chapel. No sooner was the idea suggested than it met with a hearty response in the donation of a lot 70x80 ft. and a liberal donation in money from one individual, to which was added other contributions from persons residing in the vicinity. Thus encouraged, the building was begun and was ready for occupancy, though in an unfinished state, by September.

When completed the chapel will cost $1,025. Amount raised in money, labor and material, $725, leaving a balance still due of $300. We would rejoice if our children of an older growth here present would aid us in liquidating this small sum that we might give the building free th the Lord.

As the result of the labors of the faithful corps of eight teachers, who have so cheerfully sacrificed their own personal comfort and volunteered their services in this mission work, the number of scholars has increased from seven to sixty-one, with an average attendance of forty since the occupancy of the chapel. Many of the children have no other Sabbath instructions, and their appreciation of our interest in their welfare is shown in their regular attendance through "Summer's heat and Winter's cold," and their readiness to receive instruction in the great truths of the bible. Our earnest prayer is, that the seed thus sown will spring up and bear fruit to the honor glory of Him who has said "Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Our thanks, long since due, are hereby tendered to the Md. State Bible Society for a liberal donation of bibles and testaments, and to our friend W. A. Baker, Esq., of Baltimore, as well as to Miss Moulten of Philadelphia, for books, papers and tracts so generously donated by them. We would not forget to mention the gift of our pastor and lady of a sweet-toned instrument to aid us in singing our songs of praise.

In conclusion, we would refer to one more item of peculiar interest connected with our school. Since our last anniversary six scholars have made a public profession of their love for Jesus and meet with us around His table. We trust that many more may this year follow their example, for what will our labor avail if souls are saved. "Paul may plant and Apollos water, but God alone can give the increase." To Him, therefore, we would look for help, and pray that He will bless our feeble efforts and crown us with success."

This report shows the school to be in a flourishing condition, and in point of numbers it will compare favorably with many schools in much larger towns. Next followed a series of transparences, during which appropriate passages of scripture were repeated by the different classes, and several hymns were sung.

The mission school which was organized at Armstrong's a short time since, and which, in the language of the pastor, "has not sprung from one to a thousand, but from seven to three score," was in attendance, and during the exercises rendered beautifully that beautiful hymn "The old, old story."

Short, but appropriate, addresses were made during the evening by Drs. Patton and Crowell, and at the close of the exercises a collection, amounting to twenty dollars, was taken up.

The school then retired by classes and assembled in the lecture-room, where was a table laden with good things which were dispensed to the happy children.

Thus closed the Sabbath School Anniversary of the Forest Presbyterian Church, an occasion pleasant alike to school and audience.

Chesapeake City Items.—Captain Hazel of steamer Minnie Cadwalader, New York line, slipped from the pilot-house and fell overboard, off Turkey Point, on Saturday night last, and was drowned. A line from the steamer John L. Mercer, was thrown to him but too late to save him. His body has not yet been found.

The Canal Company have finished repairing the canal locks, in this place.

Messrs. Brady & Lindsay, lumber dealers, have gone to Williamsport and Cumberland to buy lumber. They expect to remain there this week.

Thomas Chester, Esq., has finished fitting the basement and everybody can help their self now.

Dr. Patton, Chairman of the Committee on an Address, showing the magnitude of the fruit interests, reported quite fully. The report contains the following estimates:

Peach trees on the Peninsula,	5,000,000
" " in bearing,	3,000,000
Acres in peach trees,	80,000
Value per acre, (low average)	$50.00
Whole value of orchards,	$2,500,000
Invest. in wagons, baskets, etc.	$250,000
Capital invested in peaches,	$2,750,000

A full crop of peaches is estimated at 3,000,000 baskets. That of last year reached about these figures:

Shipped by rail,	2,456,276
By water, (estimated)	500,000
Canned,	75,000
Dried, (Alden process)	11,000
Otherwise consumed,	14,000
Total baskets,	3,056,276
Value of 3,000,000 baskets,	$3,000,000
Expense of picking, $150,000
" " freight, 600,000
" " commission, 300,000
Total expense,	1,050,000
Net product full crop,	$1,950,000

The annual value, it is true, is uncertain. In 1868 the crop was total failure. In 1871 it was immense but prices were low. A crop, however, may be relied upon three years in four, and the return is as certain as for wheat.

There are now six canning establishments, consuming 75,000 baskets and putting up 750,000 cans. Alden process drying establishments are established at Milford and Middletown, are considered very satisfactory, and consumed last year about 11,000 baskets.

Peaches are yet the great fruit interest, but the increase in the orchards is not so rapid as two years ago, attention being more directed to pears, small fruits and vegetables. In 1870 the number of young peach trees sold by nurserymen to the Peninsula was 28 per cent. over 1869; but in 1871 it fell off 14 per cent. from 1870.

The address makes the following recommendations to the peach growers:

1. Send no inferior fruit.
2. Open new markets.
3. Send cars direct to market without opening.
4. Have prompt reports of sales and baskets.
5. Supercede commission men entirely, or establish a system of investigation as to their character.
6. Compel, by legislation, or encouragement of competing routes, reduction of freights.
7. Encourage canneries and dryeries.
8. Establish unity of action.

The address was referred back to the Committee for revision, before publication.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Townsend, and adopted, urging the P. W. & B. Railroad Company to return to the peach growers the $30,000 retained by the Company as tax, in the years 1869, and 1870, pending the question whether the tax was constitutional.

A Walking Match.—A New Castle correspondent furnishes "Every Evening" the following item:

Joseph Yarnall, the accommodating proprietor of the Exchange Hotel, and Frederick Eagle, celebrated for having good beef, had a walking match on Saturday last from Mt. Pleasant to New Castle, a distance of 17 miles. The distance was accomplished in 4 hours and 21 seconds; Yarnall coming in ahead of Eagle, 1 minute and 3 seconds. The parties stopped twice on the road for refreshments. The first heat was from Mt. Pleasant to St. Georges.—After stopping there 15 minutes they started on the second heat. The first mile, Yarnall was a little ahead, but limping. The second mile Yarnall behind, having stopped to ask a man to vote for him for coroner. The end of the second heat brought them to State Road Station, Yarnall ahead, Eagle having stopped to look at some cattle and give Yarnall a chance to order refreshments. After regaling themselves for a short time, they started on the last and longest heat for New Castle, and reached the Exchange Hotel at 7.50 P. M. Yarnall ahead. Eagle kept on, not knowing he was in New Castle, and came near bringing up in the Delaware river.

The Explosion in New Castle Harbor.—A correspondent of Every Evening says:—A little after daylight Thursday morning our citizens were startled by hearing a loud explocion in our harbor, and upon going to the wharf, smoke could be seen issuing from the forward hold of the barque Sabra Masce, which, with the usual activity of the crew, soon convinced our citizens that she was on fire. As she was known to contain some 3,000 barrels of petroleum the most intense excitement arose. The Good Will engine was soon on hand, and every preparation made to protect the property on our river front, in case the fire should get beyond control. The Captain of the barque (who deserves much commendation for his coolness and nerve) at once gave orders to scuttle her, which was done by cutting through her bow, when she at once commenced filling and the fire was extinguished. It was afterwards discovered that the oil was not burning, but a small portion of the wood work. The explosion having been caused by one of the crew descending into the hold with a lighted lamp in his hand which, coming in contact with the gas from the oil, ignited it, and the explosion followed.

The new Masonic Temple in Wilmington will be formally dedicated on Thursday, the 18th day of April. It will be a grand affair. The Grand Lodge will be convened on that day, and the attendance, it is thought, from every State in the Union of delegations of the Grand Officers of every Grand Lodge, as well as those of Canada, will give a zest to the ceremonies of the occasion. Rev'd. Dr. J. C. McCabe, of this place, has accepted the invitation of the Committee of Arrangements, to deliver the Oration.

Del. City Items.—Fine Sport.—One day last week while Rev. Mr. Atkinson (colored) was out hunting for muskrats he came across two very fine otters, which he succeeded in capturing.

On Sunday last Rev. Joshua Humphries, who has had charge of the Methodist Church for the past year, preached his farewell sermon. We learn that he goes to Wilmington to live.

Dover is excited over a new post office. Petitions, signed by everybody in the town, asking for an appropriation of $10,000 from the General Government, have been sent to Washington and it is reported that Senator Anthony has succeeded in getting the appropriation allowed by the proper committee in Congress.

The New P. E. Church in this town, will be Consecrated on Thursday the 7th day of March, at 10 o'clock A. M. by Bishop Lee, assisted by Rev. Dr. Quinton, rector of the Church, and Rev. Dr. Hall, of Philadelphia, Rev. Mr. Pitcher, of Wilmington, Rev. Mr. Hall, of Newark, Del., and other clergymen, by request, and take part in the interesting services.

Removal.—Mr. Jacob Hoffecker has removed his Boot and Shoe store to the building on the corner of Market and Second streets, recently occupied by Mr. Wm. Hoffecker, where he will be pleased to see his friends and customers.

Reports come from nearly all the fruit growing region, from which it appears that the greatest damage to the fruit interests has been done from Dover down, while from Dover up the crop will be far from a full one. Mr. E. O. Fennimore, near Odessa, as us usual, escapes the damages sustained by others.

Rapid Transit.—The Wilmington and Philadelphia Railroad Company have commenced running their passenger trains over the Delaware Railroad from Wilmington to Delaware City, and will hereafter run their trains through to Philadelphia by the Delaware Railroad. The distance between Wilmington and Philadelphia will be reduced to 35 miles, and the time to one hour and forty minutes. The Delaware Railroad Company have also commenced running their passenger trains through to Wilmington, and the distance between Wilmington and Delaware City will be reduced to 18 miles, and the time to 40 minutes. The Delaware Railroad Company have also commenced running their passenger trains through to Wilmington, and the distance between Wilmington and Delaware City will be reduced to 18 miles, and the time to 40 minutes.

Fire.—On Monday night last, about 11 o'clock, the alarm of fire was sounded, and the Good Will Engine Company responded promptly, and soon had the fire under control. The fire originated in the stable of Mr. Wm. Hoffecker, on Second street, and was caused by the explosion of a lamp. The stable was entirely consumed, and the adjoining building was considerably damaged. The loss will be about $1,000, which is fully covered by insurance

[illegible] Friday's Delaware Gazette, Mr. [illegible] says I have seen proper to misrepresent, and abuse the editor [illegible] without a cause. Caleb, [illegible] brain softening? Do you chew [illegible] any other soothing drug, or use [illegible]alant that would put you in such [illegible] frame of mind as to make you [illegible] see were a kind of second-handed [illegible] too pure to associate with com[illegible]te's; and that I, Sam, or old Sam [illegible], as you have it sometimes in your [illegible] sheet, the Gazette, had misrepre[illegible] you, its innocent editor? Now, [illegible] P. Johnson, I ask you as a man [illegible] people of the United States would [illegible] know that General Washington had [illegible] President only by record? Man [illegible] not live forever. People come in succ[illegible] generations after one another. [illegible] is a record kept of their principal [illegible]; and so a record was kept of the [illegible]gs of the Democratic National [illegible] held in New York in 1868; [illegible] soon as that anonymous "B." comm[illegible] writing lies in your paper you [illegible] have had, as Bonner of the New [illegible] Ledger has, a fool's department in [illegible] paper, and appointed some person of [illegible] to write answers to these fool's ques[illegible] and when "B" asked the foolish [illegible], who was the member of the Dem[illegible] National Committee for Delaware? [illegible] have been told to look at the [illegible] record of said Convention, and not [illegible] go on like a musquito, every week [illegible]ng at me, until I had to have pub[illegible] in the Middletown Transcript the [illegible] of the National Committee, as ac[illegible] and recorded in the proceedings of [illegible] National Convention of 1868. Had [illegible] Caleb, published the names of the [illegible]ittee, it would have saved me from [illegible]shing F. O. Prince's letter and ex[illegible]g the non-payment of the $100 he [illegible] on me as State committee-man to [illegible] and forward. I see another of your [illegible]pondents, signed "W." insinuates [illegible] I ought not to have published F. O. [illegible]'s letter. Now I will submit to ev[illegible]body, fair man if, after this corres[illegible]nt "B." in the Gazette for four [illegible] or more accusing and insinuating [illegible] was not the committee-man but an [illegible]er, I was not justified in my [illegible] in publishing the names of [illegible]mittee, and also this letter of F. [illegible]rince? That letter proves, before [illegible] proceedings of the Convention were [illegible]shed in book form, that the Execu[illegible] Committee appointed by the National [illegible]ention recognized me as being the [illegible]ittee-man for Delaware. The Trea[illegible]r, F. O. Prince, sent me the circular, [illegible]sting me to collect and send the mon[illegible]. Now the party may blame the offi[illegible] "B." and C. P. I should not have published that [illegible] and now whilst on this subject, for [illegible] never again have occasion to men[illegible] in the papers, James Ponder, Esq. [illegible] of the delegates that helped ap[illegible], and he is too much of a gentle[illegible] and too honorable a man, after help[illegible]ominate me, and when after he had [illegible] convention, to have allowed the [illegible] same for the member of that [illegible] in my place, if the Convention [illegible] mean enough to reverse its nomi[illegible]. The same Jas. Ponder who was del[illegible] that Convention is now the Gov[illegible] of this State, and a more honora[illegible]-minded man does not live in this [illegible] I am justified in saying this from [illegible]stance with the man, and I [illegible] further safely state that he is [illegible] a departure Democrat, nor never [illegible]ts to or acquiesce in those Dem[illegible]-equality doctrines. Now, [illegible]h for your injured innocence. [illegible]ed by what you thought a [illegible]e to set the party against me, [illegible] cared for it. You say you [illegible] my attack on the great [illegible] Man's Party which is [illegible] another great victory [illegible]ention, not only in Dela[illegible] but the union in the fall. [illegible] be the name of God do [illegible] you not dreaming? The [illegible] Man's party achieve a [illegible]ion! Old Rip Van[illegible] not heard of the new de[illegible] free-State Democrats [illegible] become instead of [illegible] you not heard that [illegible] Democrats were beat[illegible] old free States, from [illegible] Pendle Oosus, with [illegible] of Governor Parker [illegible] now ben the com[illegible] in the city of Phila[illegible] elected to [illegible] and recorded in the proceedings of [illegible] National Convention of 1868. Johnson for this [illegible]. I should not have published that [illegible] and now whilst on this subject, for [illegible] never again have occasion to men[illegible] in the papers, James Ponder, Esq. [illegible] of the delegates that helped ap[illegible], and he is too much of a gentle[illegible] and too honorable a man, after help[illegible]ominate me, and when after he had [illegible] convention, to have allowed the [illegible] same for the member of that [illegible] in my place, if the Convention [illegible] mean enough to reverse its nomi[illegible]. The same Jas. Ponder who was del[illegible] that Convention is now the Gov[illegible] of this State, and a more honora[illegible]-minded man does not live in this [illegible] I am justified in saying this from [illegible]stance with the man, and I [illegible] further safely state that he is [illegible] a departure Democrat, nor never [illegible]ts to or acquiesce in those Dem[illegible]-equality doctrines. Now, [illegible]h for your injured innocence. [illegible]ed by what you thought a [illegible]e to set the party against me, [illegible] cared for it. You say you [illegible] my attack on the great [illegible] Man's Party which is [illegible] another great victory [illegible]ention, not only in Dela[illegible] but the union in the fall. [illegible] be the name of God do [illegible] you not dreaming? The [illegible] Man's party achieve a [illegible]ion! Old Rip Van[illegible] not heard of the new de[illegible] free-State Democrats [illegible] become instead of [illegible] you not heard that [illegible] Democrats were beat[illegible] old free States, from [illegible] Pendle Oosus, with [illegible] of Governor Parker [illegible] now ben the com[illegible] in the city of Phila[illegible] elected to [illegible]

Friday's Delaware Gazette, Mr. [illegible] says I have seen proper to misrepresent, and abuse the editor [illegible] without a cause. Caleb, [illegible] brain softening? Do you chew [illegible] any other soothing drug, or use [illegible]alant that would put you in such [illegible] frame of mind as to make you [illegible] see were a kind of second-handed [illegible] too pure to associate with com[illegible]te's; and that I, Sam, or old Sam [illegible], as you have it sometimes in your [illegible] sheet, the Gazette, had misrepre[illegible] you, its innocent editor? Now, [illegible] P. Johnson, I ask you as a man [illegible] people of the United States would [illegible] know that General Washington had [illegible] President only by record? Man [illegible] not live forever. People come in succ[illegible] generations after one another. [illegible] is a record kept of their principal [illegible]; and so a record was kept of the [illegible]gs of the Democratic National [illegible] held in New York in 1868; [illegible] soon as that anonymous "B." comm[illegible] writing lies in your paper you [illegible] have had, as Bonner of the New [illegible] Ledger has, a fool's department in [illegible] paper, and appointed some person of [illegible] to write answers to these fool's ques[illegible] and when "B" asked the foolish [illegible], who was the member of the Dem[illegible] National Committee for Delaware? [illegible] have been told to look at the [illegible] record of said Convention, and not [illegible] go on like a musquito, every week [illegible]ng at me, until I had to have pub[illegible] in the Middletown Transcript the [illegible] of the National Committee, as ac[illegible] and recorded in the proceedings of [illegible] National Convention of 1868. Had [illegible] Caleb, published the names of the [illegible]ittee, it would have saved me from [illegible]shing F. O Prince's letter and ex[illegible]g the non-payment of the $100 he [illegible] on me as State committee-man to [illegible] and forward. I see another of your [illegible]pondents, signed "W." insinuates [illegible] I ought not to have published F. O. [illegible]'s letter. Now I will submit to ev[illegible]body, fair man if, after this corres[illegible]nt "B." in the Gazette for four [illegible] or more accusing and insinuating [illegible] was not the committee-man but an [illegible]er, I was not justified in my [illegible] in publishing the names of [illegible]mittee, and also this letter of F. [illegible]rince? That letter proves, before [illegible] proceedings of the Convention were [illegible]shed in book form, that the Execu[illegible] Committee appointed by the National [illegible]ention recognized me as being the [illegible]ittee-man for Delaware. The Trea[illegible]r, F. O. Prince, sent me the circular, [illegible]sting me to collect and send the mon[illegible]. Now the party may blame the offi[illegible] "B." and C. P. Johnson for this [illegible]. I should not have published that [illegible] and now whilst on this subject, for [illegible] never again have occasion to men[illegible] in the papers, James Ponder, Esq. [illegible] of the delegates that helped ap[illegible], and he is too much of a gentle[illegible] and too honorable a man, after help[illegible]ominate me, and when after he had [illegible] convention, to have allowed the [illegible] same for the member of that [illegible] in my place, if the Convention [illegible] mean enough to reverse its nomi[illegible]. The same Jas. Ponder who was del[illegible] that Convention is now the Gov[illegible] of this State, and a more honora[illegible]-minded man does not live in this [illegible] I am justified in saying this from [illegible]stance with the man, and I [illegible] further safely state that he is [illegible] a departure Democrat, nor never [illegible]ts to or acquiesce in those Dem[illegible]-equality doctrines. Now, [illegible]h for your injured innocence. [illegible]ed by what you thought a [illegible]e to set the party against me, [illegible] cared for it. Townsend, February 19, 1872.

WHO'S AHEAD.—A gentleman asks the girls the following questions: "Could you love a man who wore false hair on his head, when he had enough of his own? Who painted his face and improved his form, as you improve (?) yours? Who pinched his feet with small shoes, his hands with small gloves, his waist with corsets; and then, as if he had not already deformed himself enough, tied a huge bustle to his back, and thrust tiny mountains of wire into his bosom?" In reply to which a lady responds, "Could you love a girl who defiled her mouth with tobacco and loaded the air with fumes of cigars? Who staggered home several times a week the worse for liquor. Who indulged in fast horses, bet high at races, and swaggered around the streets with questionable companions?" "Which picture wears the most alluring colors?" We also see it reported that Mrs. Van Cott says if she had all the money ever paid for liquor she could buy every foot of land in the world. Very likely. And if she had all the money paid by women for back hair she could buy every drop of liquor in the world.

KISSING IN THE DARK.—Gentle reader, did you ever—I desire not to be personal—but did you ever kiss a girl in a railroad tunnel? I never did, but if the truth must be told, I've wanted to awful bad.—Not that I have any idea that gobbling a chaste salute within the dark and narrow confines of a tunnel renders a kiss more delicious than if stolen or taken with full permission anywhere else; but it is the novelty of the thing. It is the darkness; the rank burglary; the calculation as to time; the sudden assault; the desperate defence; the cute agony of the skirmish line of hair pins; the carrying of the outer work; the fierce struggle at the scarp; the glorious sweetness of the surrender; and then the condemnable meanness, afterward, of the victory. Then hurried repairs, and the impossible attempt to appear placid and all serene before the other passengers. I tell you there's a short lifetime passed in the kissing of a girl in a tunnel.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished Physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like those Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
